Personal Wake-Up Calls
The Northern Lights are on many people’s bucket lists for good reason. The mystical colors and formations of this phenomenon can only be witnessed by traveling in the right conditions. We travel to a region directly under the Aurora belt during the darkest and most active times of year. Our guides spend the night watching for lights and wake you as soon as they appear, offering expert photo advice and attentive service.

Seasonality
Below is a sample itinerary. Activities change based on snow conditions. In early fall curling is not available, snowshoeing is replaced with hiking, and dogsledding will instead be a dog-cart ride or hike with the huskies. Aurora is a natural occurrence and predicting it is not foolproof

Day One
When you arrive into Fairbanks we will provide a complimentary ride to your hotel. There will be a quick meet-and-greet with your guides in the lobby that night. Bring your camera if you have questions about photographing Northern Lights!

Day Two
After breakfast we will head into town to check out the Morris Thompson Cultural Center. Explore world-class exhibits on Alaska’s history and seasons and learn about traditional native art, music, & dance. Then take a city tour of Fairbanks and visit the famous Trans-Alaska Pipeline, followed by lunch at a classic Alaska log road house. After, we head to the lodge, which boasts amazing views of mountains and snow-covered spruce forests. After we settle in, you can explore the hiking trails that surround the lodge or just grab a hot cocoa and relax in your new home base. Following dinner you can come ‘hunt’ for the Northern Lights with us, or stay in the warmth of the lodge. Your guide will alert you if the Aurora appears.
Day Three
After a homemade breakfast at the lodge you will have free time to take a casual hike around the property and try snowshoeing if the conditions are right. Not into hiking? Enjoy the views with a warm beverage in the cozy common room, filled with charming antiques and collectibles. Following lunch we will head to a family ranch to meet reindeer and take a walk with them through a beautiful birch forest. Try some hot tea and Jane’s homemade cookies inside and learn more about reindeer. Enjoy dinner and aurora viewing that evening!

Day Four
Today we have a chance to visit some different sights around town. These can vary depending on guest interest, and may include unique souvenir shopping, a visit to the antique automobile museum or seasonal events in the area. This is followed by a visit to the famous Museum of the North on the University of Alaska campus to learn about the natural and cultural history of the region. Tonight we will enjoy another favorite local restaurant. Watch for Aurora too!

Day Five
Enjoy another tasty breakfast before our most exciting excursion yet - dog sledding! Meet the friendly dogs (and maybe even some puppies!) and learn about mushing before hopping on a sled for a ride through the forest. After lunch we will have a curling lesson with local players at the Fairbanks Curling Club. Test your skills by challenging your new friends - curling is so much more fun than you might expect! Dinner is at a local restaurant and then we spend another evening looking for Aurora.
Day Six

Today visit the remote and beautiful Chena Hot Springs. Soak in the steaming waters surrounded by snow; if it is really cold your hair might even frost over! While there we visit an ice sculpture museum where you can observe delicate artwork and sip an apple martini in a carved glass from the ice bar (not included in tour cost). The drive home from the Hot Springs provides a wonderful opportunity to search for the Northern Lights and spot moose.

Day Seven

One more Alaskan-sized breakfast before wrapping up our adventure and saying goodbye to our new friends. Our guides will be available through the late afternoon for transfers to the airport or to other preferred locations. All guided activities end at 5pm on this day. We can also help to set you up with additional hotel rooms, activities or luggage storage for any extra time you are spending in town. Head home with memories of unique and exciting activities and the Alaskan locals you got to know along the way. When you arrive home check out the shared photo album we have set up for you to upload and share pictures from your adventure!
Accommodations
Alaska Grizzly Lodge

This lodge is located 10 miles outside of downtown Fairbanks for prime Aurora viewing uninterrupted by light pollution. The building is surrounded by boreal birch forest, and there are trails for hiking/snowshoeing easily accessible nearby. Within a few minutes you can visit the famous Trans-Alaskan Pipeline and enjoy 360 degrees unobstructed sky views.

This unique Alaskan lodge boasts large viewing decks nearby every room, so you don’t even have to leave the building to see the Northern Lights! This lodge is owned by Gondwana and your local hosts Fred and Janet Vreeman, so you can expect all the same personal touches and superior quality that our tours are known for when staying here. Wake up to home cooked breakfasts, and cozy up by the electric fireplace at the end of the day. Alaska Grizzly Lodge provides the rustic atmosphere and seclusion you want while still delivering all the comforts of home.
SpringHill Suites

A great spot to relax after your arrival. It is conveniently located downtown along the river within walking distance to shops and restaurants. With comfortable beds and spacious rooms featuring flat screen TV and free WiFi, you couldn’t ask for more for your first night in Fairbanks.

Take a swim in the pool or a soak in their hot tub, and enjoy a complimentary breakfast buffet in the morning. There is a 24 hour fitness center and round the clock front desk service to make sure you have everything you need. There are also laundry facilities and a general store on site. Get some rest - we’ve got a ton of fun and exciting activities coming up!

Breakfasts are hearty and home-made at the lodge while most lunches and dinners will be at our favorite restaurants around Fairbanks. We have developed a carefully curated list of the best spots in town. Transportation to all of the meals is provided. While the order and selection of locations sometimes changes, here are some examples of the places we frequently feast.

Lavelle’s Bistro

Located in the heart of downtown, Lavelle’s Bistro offers locals and travelers a stylish and comfortable place to wine and dine. They feature elegant dishes in a range of international styles and boast the best wine selection in town.
Meet Your Guides
Fred Vreeman is an environmental engineer/scientist who teaches part time at the University and loves sharing Alaska with travelers. He came here in 1978 and loves exploring the wilderness as a pilot, boat captain, scientist and adventurer. He has worked for Alaskan environmental agencies and the National Parks. He has degrees in Natural Science, Sociology and Environmental Engineering. In addition to guiding land tours he operates a riverboat for adventurous guests discovering Alaska’s Yukon River.
Janet Vreeman is a local tour director and travel consultant. She has been in Alaska for decades and has spent many years guiding tours for multiple Fairbanks operations including the Alaska Railroad. She has degrees in Anthropology and Photography, and is an accomplished artist who creates unique pieces from birch bark! She is an expert on the Northern Lights and is great at helping our guests capture the perfect shot. Her warm personality and expertise on all things Alaska will make your trip an unforgettable experience.
Nicole Vreeman has been born and raised in Fairbanks and she is the daughter of our guides Fred and Janet Vreeman. Nicole has been guiding with Gondwana on both of our Alaska tours for the past two years. She has studied at the University of Alaska and is very knowledgeable on the science of Aurora and Alaskan culture. Past guests rave about her kindness and attentive service. She is a fantastic photographer and loves to spot local flora and fauna.
Frequently Asked Questions

What kind of clothing do I need and is it possible to rent it?
When you sign up we will send you a pre-trip guide with a comprehensive packing list and other info for planning your adventure! We have heavy duty jackets, snow pants, boots, hats and mittens available for rent. Upon booking you will have a chance to reserve these items as well as camera gear - we won’t let you freeze!

Is this trip for me?
Our Northern Lights Ecotour does not require a high-degree of physical fitness but it is important to have a decent level of mobility. Guests should be able to support themselves on occasional slight inclines and be able to easily enter and exit a passenger van. While there are options available for those who enjoy longer hikes, snowshoeing and more physical activity, this is not required to participate in the trip. Conditions do vary widely over the duration of the season, and sometimes it can get very cold, icy and slippery. Guests should be prepared for the possibility of extremely low temperatures as well.

Optional Participation
Participation in all activities is not required, just let your guides know as soon as possible - guests may stay at the lodge or we can arrange taxis to bring them back to the lodge during the day (taxi cost not included).

How likely am I to see the Northern Lights?
While nature can never be guaranteed, if you spend a minimum of four nights in Fairbanks and are actively looking in the evening hours your chance of seeing the Aurora Borealis is around 90%. During our 2018-2019 season we saw Aurora at least once on every tour! We believe that careful planning and our diligent Aurora wake-up services were key to this success.

How do I sign up?
To reserve your spot simply request (via phone or email) an invoice for your $500 deposit. This deposit is refundable for any reason within 30 days of booking. Upon signup we will send you our pre-trip guide to prepare you for the journey. It contains booking terms, a detailed packing list, health and safety tips, suggested reading and lots of other useful information. We will also send you 2 easy links to fill out your personal information and flight details. Please fill these out as soon as possible.

As your trip approaches we will email you with introductions to your guides and fellow travelers, and information on what to expect for your arrival and departure.

Optional Participation
Participation in all activities is not required, just let your guides know as soon as possible - guests may stay at the lodge or we can arrange taxis to bring them back to the lodge during the day (taxi cost not included).

Thanks so much for contacting us and if you have any other questions please email us at (Ola@GondwanaEcotours.com) or call us at 877-587-8479.
Why Travel With Gondwana Ecotours?

Aurora Wake Up Calls
Our night guides stay up watching the skies and provide personal wake-up calls when the Aurora appears. You can stay well rested and warm and still catch the best of the Northern Lights!

Remote Lodge with Prime Viewing
Our lodge is located 30 mins outside of Fairbanks, surrounded by beautiful forests and trails and far from the lights of town which makes for better Aurora viewing and better photography. Enjoy viewing steps from your room, right outside the lodge so you can stay warm and enjoy the show.

Small Groups
Our groups are never larger than 18, so you can really get to know your guide and fellow travelers. Ask plenty of questions and never feel like you are getting lost in the crowd. As a small company, we can adapt our plans to the needs of our guests, so it’s not just a trip, it's YOUR trip.

Authentic Culture
We only work with guides and partners who truly embody the local spirit of Interior Alaska. Meet with a native author, homesteaders, dog-mushers and others who live and share this unique culture.

Gondwana Exclusive Activities
Many of our activities have been developed exclusively for our tours. You won’t get experiences like this with anyone else!

Friendly Local Guides
Our guides are always local, and always have interesting stories to tell. One of our guides is a pilot, captain and environmental engineer. Another is an author and Aurora photographer - these are not your average guides!

Attentive 24/7 Service
We have you covered from beginning to end. All your transportation in Alaska is arranged, and our guides escort you to all activities and meals. We do everything together as a group, and by the end of our trip we have always made new friends. Our guides at night will alert you when the lights are active and will be there to assist you with photos and provide hot tea or cocoa as you watch the skies.

Expert Photography Assistance
It is tricky to capture the magic of the Northern Lights, but our guides have been doing it for years and can assist you in getting your camera primed and ready to nail the perfect shot!
